FX MARKET:

$\checkmark$ The USDPKR slipped lower today and dropped by almost 20paisa's in the morning trade in its biggest day move for the last 3-months.
$\checkmark \quad$ Swaps saw premiums rise across the board as the inverse effect of the exchange rate drop was seen in demand for longer term tenors. The rebound in the overnight money market rates from the lows seen earlier in the week coupled with the T-bill auction today also lent a hand in pushing the premiums higher. With CPI coming in higher than expected, the market sentiment has changed from stable interest rates to one of a gradual uptick in the policy rate.
